

Take care of those you love

Preparing for long-term care needs

We know that aging brings wisdom and experience, but it can also be accompanied by challenges.

One of the biggest challenges can be the eventual need for some sort of long-term care. How and where you receive this care can have a dramatic impact on your life as well as the lives of those around you. Andrea, Carolyn, and Emilee will lead a discussion and draw on their professional backgrounds and personal experiences to provide vital information about preparing for long-term care.

We'll discuss steps including:

- Learning your options
- Deciding how to pay for it and how to protect assets
- Preparing yourself with the right documents
- Staying involved in the community
- Leaving a lasting legacy
